

December 13, 2011

A hiring survey by employment firm Manpower Inc. showed that more employers expect to add staff in the first quarter of 2012 than to reduce headcount. In the survey of 18,000 employers, 14% expect to add to payrolls in the first quarter, versus 9% who expect to lay off employees. The rest of survey respondents expected stable employment levels.